ABOUT ME

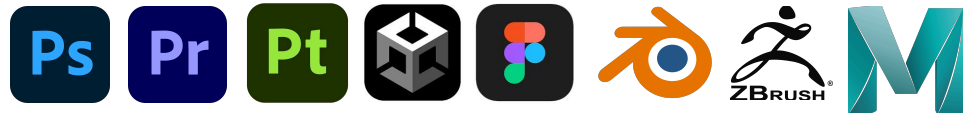

I'm a 3D environment artist with three years of game development experience, focusing on stylistic props and environments for players to explore and interact with.

I have a keen eye for detail when translating 2D art into 3D Models, and I work well in a team, having collaborated effectively throughout my education and professional work. I have developed great communication and organisational skills as well as a good understanding of other disciplines.

I've used these skills doing projects with my time at DRI and looking to enhance them and improve my skills

My hobbies include Gaming, Art and a range of crafts.
